

PAN-AMERICANS STUDYING PLAN OF PROTECTION

Consider Project Today
For Safeguarding the Americas

PROPOSAL COMES FROM VENEZUELA

Subject Considered By Group Headed By Alf.
M. Landon

(By Associated Press)

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 12.—The Pan-American conference peace committee, with Alf M. Landon as the chief United States representative, took up today a sweeping project for safeguarding the security of the Americas.

The project was advanced by Venezuela. It defines what would be aggression from a non-American nation and calls for immediate consultation and common action by the Americas in the event of attack.

Some of the delegates considered the project too advanced in concept, for conference approval in its present form, but from the committee discussion may emerge a draft acceptable to all.

Most Important In Action Today

The committee was easily the most important of the various groups swinging into vigorous action today, after the ceremonies of convoking the congress Friday and Saturday.

Some delegates saw a favorable omen for peace legislation in the address by Jose Maria Cantillo, foreign minister of Argentina, who said on Saturday that the American nations were ready to maintain a common front against any danger which might menace the independence and sovereignty of any of them.

In view of the previous Argentine attitude against any step drawing away from European ties, the feeling prevailed that Cantillo took a step further than might have been expected.

Much criticism of the Venezuela aggression project was that it did not consider the possibility of invasion of the hemisphere by political activities of the non-American nations, which both Cantillo and Secretary Hull, chief of the United States delegation, mentioned in their Saturday speeches.

Want Something On This

The United States delegation would like to see something included on this.

The Venezuela plan, "without exaggerating future dangers" and "without sowing suspicions," declares that "for America the moment has arrived to think and work collectively, to unify its action and its methods of defense in the face of emergencies that might arise."

The definition of aggression includes: Force to settle differences rather than use of the courts; declaration of war on one of the signatories; invasion by armed forces; attack by land, air or sea; a naval blockade; support to armed bands invading one of the Americas.

The Rev. John F. O'Hara, president of Notre Dame university, revealed that Landon had offered to raise from private sources a fund for exchange of college professors between the United States and Latin America in an effort to better friendly relations.

Balbo and His Troops Manning Libyan Border

Marshal Italo Balbo (bearded) is shown reviewing Italian colonial troops in Tripoli. Reports from French Tunisia indicate that the marshal, who is governor general of the Italian North African colony, is moving troops to the Libya-Tunisia border, where France is said to have a "Magnet Line" in the desert.

DEBATES SEEN ON NEUTRALITY

Variety of Demands Forecast for Congress Session

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Regardless of any changes the administration may propose, the new congress will encounter a variety of individual demands for bolstering the nation's neutrality policies as well as its defenses.

Rep. Ludlow (D-Ind.) provided a sample today by proposing a ban on munitions shipments to non-American countries at any time.

Ludlow, who led an unsuccessful fight last winter to require a popular vote on declaring foreign wars, said the United States was morally guilty in the bombing of Chinese civilians because it had sold munitions worth $14,336,852 to Japan in less than two years.

The state department reported Saturday that export licenses to all countries for arms valued at $3,467,000 were issued last month, Peru led the list with licenses for $837,480 worth of military airplanes.

While there has been criticism of the present neutrality law in some quarters since it was enacted in May, 1937, administration leaders have given no indications so far of specific revisions they may seek.

One change suggested by some congressmen would permit the president to embargo shipment of munitions to aggressor nations only. The law now provides that embargoes must apply to all belligerents alike whenever the president proclaims that a state of war exists.

President Roosevelt's declaration last August that the United States would not stand idly by if Canada were attacked by a foreign power led some authorities to suggest that a rewording of the neutrality law would be necessary to except the dominion from its provisions.

The act now exempts American republics, but officials said that does not include Canada.

BODY OF CHILD FOUND IN CREEK

Somerset Mystery Solved As Drowning Story Is Revealed

WELLSVILLE, Dec. 12.—The body of Jimmy Carnahan, three and one-half-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Carnahan of New Somerset, who disappeared Nov. 30, was found Sunday afternoon in Yellow creek at Hammondsville.

The discovery was made by George Cronin, of Hammondsville, who saw the lad's foot sticking out of the water, as he was passing near the scene to inspect some traps he had set out.

Coroner Arnold Devon returned a verdict of death by drowning. A group of CCC workers conducted a fruitless search for the boy for several days after he disappeared. He was last seen playing near the creek.

The funeral service will be held at the home tomorrow.

Highway Patrolmen Probe Two Clashes

Only two traffic accidents on district highways were investigated by state highway patrolmen during the weekend.

Mrs. Geo. Habbershan of Canton and William Fandrich of Warren were treated for cuts and bruises after their automobiles collided on Route 18 at Palmyra at 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

No one was injured at 8 p. m. yesterday when cars driven by Henry H. Pollock, 46, of East Palestine and George Gange, 43, of Girard, collided at the intersection of Route 62 at the Johnston road, two and one-half miles west of Westville.

The patrol reported Pollock was enroute west when Gange came out onto the highway from the Johnston road.

DEATH SUMMONS GASTON MEANS

Convict Known For His Lindbergh Baby Hoax Dies; Continues Silent On Money

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Dec. 12.—Gaston B. Means, 58, oft-time convicted widely known for his $104,000 Lindbergh baby ransom hoax, died early today at the United States medical center here.

Undisclosed to the end was his secret of what became of the large sum Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean of Washington, D. C., gave him on his promise that he could return the kidnapped son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh alive.

The big time swindler offered no death-bed statement. He had met earlier attempts of G-men to obtain the inside story of the case with stony silence.

Means' death had been expected since Thursday when he suffered a heart attack following an operation for removal of his gall bladder.

At his bedside when he died was his wife, Mrs. Julie Means of Washington D. C. Other survivors include a son, Billy; three brothers, Afton and Brandon W. Means of Concord, N. C., and Frank Means of Providence, R. I.; and three sisters, Mrs. J. F. Goodman and the Misses Mary Belle and Kate Means, all of Concord.

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 12.—A well dressed gunman who held up a drug store proprietor and two customers Sunday night escaped with $100.

The man entered the store of Walter Zimmerman and forced Zimmerman and two customers into the cellar. He then scooped the money from the cash register and fled.

LEETONIA FILM RECEIPTS TAKEN; THIEF GETS $100

Loots American Theater After Closing Hour Sunday Night

MONEY IS TAKEN FROM CUPBOARD

Robber Believed to Have Hidden Prior To Show's Closing

LEETONIA, Dec. 12.—A burglar pulled a "sleeper" on officials of the American theater here Sunday night and today was richer by approximately $100.

The thief apparently hid in the theater after closing time, and then, after everyone had departed, made his way to the office where the money had been hidden in a cupboard.

Marshal Henry Gibson, who called in Corp. F. S. Van Allen of the Massillon state highway patrol headquarters to obtain fingerprints, said nothing else in the office had been disturbed.

He said he believed the burglar knew where the money was kept. To get to the office, the thief had to crawl up over a balcony and knock out a small window.

The marshal said it had to be an "inside job" because the only open entrance to the theater was a coal chute, but doors in the cellar were found still locked.

POLICE PROBE OHIO SLAYINGS

32-Year-Old Mother And A Roomer Are Found Dead Of Gunshot Wounds

BRYAN, Dec. 12.—Coroner Howard J. Luxan pressed an investigation today into a mysterious shooting which left a 32-year-old mother and a roomer dead in the woman's home at nearby Edgerton.

Fatally wounded by shotgun blasts yesterday were Mrs. Nona Gieseler, 32, and Vern Eck, 42.

Acting Williams County Coroner E. R. Jacka and Deputy Sheriff William Lamont both said it looked like a case of "murder and suicide," but neither would express an opinion on how the shooting took place.

Lamont said the woman's son, Dale, 14, told him and Sheriff Leroy Siders that he returned home to find his mother dying on the kitchen floor and Eck dead in the next room.

The deputy said Eck had been shot in the chest and the woman wounded by two charges from the single barrel gun. She died enroute to a hospital here. The gun was found in the kitchen, Dr. Jacks said.

Dr. Jacks said a note addressed "to whom it may concern" and signed "Nona" indicated that the shooting had been planned for some time. He did not make known the note's full contents.

Dale told him, Lamont said, that Eck earlier had asked where his mother kept her shotgun but that he replied that he didn't know. The youth left the house and returned to find his mother moaning for help. Lamont said the woman, separated from her husband, has a daughter, Betty, 11.

MEMEL'S NAZIS BALLOT WINNERS

Lithuanian Police Powers End In Former German Area

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Great Britain has expressed to Germany the "hope" that the Reich will not annex Memel, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today.

MEMEL, Lithuania, Dec. 12.—The pro-Nazi Memel directory, flushed with what it termed a smashing victory in parliamentary elections yesterday, decreed the end of Lithuanian police powers today in this former German territory.

The decree asserted that only police of autonomous Memel would be permitted to control security of the territory lying at Lithuania's southwest corner adjoining Germany.

Lithuanian police who heretofore have collaborated with Memel's autonomous force now will be regarded as private citizens.

Political observers declared final decision as to any change in the territorial status of Memel, object of German ambitions to expand along the Baltic, would be made in Berlin, not Memel.

The Lithuanian government which holds a somewhat nominal sovereignty over Memel awaited in return from Berlin of the German minister. It was expected he would bring precise German proposals for the future of the disputed region.

Following a state of emergency decree "for protection of the state," more than 100 students were arrested in Kaunas, the Lithuanian capital. Newspapers reported many students had been released, but that they were planning a strike demonstration.

Memel's "Horse Doctor Fuehrer" Ernest Neumann, 50-year-old veterinarian, sounded a rallying cry that "the time is ripe for a decision in Memel."

He was backed by yesterday's vote which showed over 96 per cent of Memel's eligible voters—90 per cent of the region's 150,000 inhabitants are of German origin—had participated in the election.

Final results will be known later this week, but 26 of the 29 parishes (parliament) seats were expected to fall to the Nazis.

Predicts U. S. Will Return to Dry Side

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—A prediction that America was headed for a return of prohibition came today from an official of the Anti-Saloon League of America on the eve of preliminary sessions to the dry organization's 30th national convention here.

"I look for a time in our lifetime when the policy of government will again be opposed to the manufacture and sale of liquor," said O. G. Christgau, the league's national field director and convention manager.

He expressed the opinion that future prohibition would be by statute instead of by constitutional amendment.

The convention proper will open Thursday in Memorial hall where the league of 25 years ago launched its drive for the 18th amendment. Dr. Walter G. Clippinger, president of Otterbein college and of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, was scheduled for the address of welcome.

Salineville Woman Is Dead After Fall

NEW SECRETARY APPOINTS AIDS

Atty John G. Belknap Of Steubenville Will Be Assistant To Earl Griffith

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—Two veterans will be on the staff of Republican Secretary of State-elect Earl Griffith when he takes office on Jan. 9.

The Mt. Gilead publisher announced yesterday selection of John G. Belknap, Steubenville attorney, as assistant secretary of state, a post he held from 1929 to 1933 under Clarence J. Brown, and the re-appointment of George Neffner to the office of statistician and editor which he has filled for the past 12 years.

Leonard J. Stern, Cleveland attorney, was named corporation adviser. Speculation was rife, meanwhile, over Daniel E. Morgan's rejection of Governor-elect John W. Bricker's offer to make him state commerce director.

The former Cleveland city manager said he declined the invitation to devote his time to private law practice, but politicians expressed the belief that Morgan was preparing to become a candidate for the 1940 Republican U. S. senatorial nomination.

Should Morgan seek the seat now held by Vic Donahay, a Democrat, observers considered it probable that he would be opposed by Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland.

Announce Winners In Oratory Events

LISBON, Dec. 12.—Ralph Henry of East Palestine and Miss Margie Gregg of Wellsville were winners last night in Columbiana county Prince of Peace contests. They are now eligible for the congressional district contest.

A BILLION DOLLARS ISN'T HAY

Last Tuesday, Dec. 6, when the last total on the last adding machine had been clattered onto the recording ribbon, it was learned that WPA expenditures for the first five months and six days of the fiscal year had passed the billion dollar mark. This fact was made known on Thursday. Newspaper readers gravely considered it on Friday.

There was no excitement. Everything went off calmly. A billion's just a seven-letter word meaning a unit of spending these days. Pump priming is an American custom, said Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, in a speech last summer. Perhaps he's right.

He said pump priming used to take the form of giving away free land, building public roads, subsidizing canals, protecting infant industries with tariffs and various other things of which Mr. Hopkins disapproved. The point was that government had been helping this group and that one for 150 years... that it was an old American custom like eating corn on the cob so there was no point in being disturbed about WPA.

Perhaps an old American custom like shelling corn off the cob might have been a better description.

THE DESIRED RESULT

There may have been details of the pursuit and capture of two couples suspected of bank robbery in Sebring Thursday which would be different if second-guessers had been in charge of operations.

The important thing is that the desired result was obtained. The four suspects are safe in jail. It is believed their capture has cleared up several other bank robberies and a series of auto thefts.

The interesting thing about the capture is that highway robbery in Ohio seems to have become about as healthy as jumping into a bear trap.

Thanks to a highway patrol organization that can be mobilized quickly and directed efficiently, and thanks to the cooperation of county and municipal police, the culprit now has two strikes on him when he comes to bat.

It was claimed at the outset of every improvement in police organization made in recent years, in this state and elsewhere, that lawbreakers had gained an advantage which had to be overcome. It is gratifying to note on such occasions as the manhunt for the Sebring suspects that the advantage again seems to lie with the police.

CONGRESSIONAL COMEBACK

Promised revival of the executive reorganization bill, second stumbling block in the Roosevelt administration's attempt to interpret the 1936 vote as a blanket mandate, fails to cause more than a flurry of interest.

In view of the bitterness with which this issue was argued last spring, it's an odd situation. It can be expanded by the fact rubber stamp legislation no longer is Public Bogey No. 1. There are signs of a congressional comeback.

It will be impossible in the coming congress for the executive branch to force adoption of any proposal which does not command support based on conviction. Whatever the White House circle may believe its mandate is, as brought up to date by the outcome of this year's congressional elections, it no longer can impose its will arbitrarily on members of the senate and house.

Congressmen are expected to be more critical of executive proposals than they have been at any time since the administration of Herbert Hoover. The public feels it can depend on legislators not to authorize any expeditions to the moon to bring back green cheese till they have ascertained first of all that the moon is made of green cheese.

This is in contrast to a previous fear that senators and representatives might wake up some morning to discover they had voted themselves out of existence at quitting time the previous afternoon.

SPOKESMEN FOR THE DEMOCRATIC IDEAL

Otherwise unaccountable interest in Anthony Eden's visit is explained by the message he bears.

He said in his address to the National Association of Manufacturers, he is a representative Englishman. He went even further, to say he was describing the point of view of the "average Englishman." Be that as it may, Americans are interested to know that there is a point of view in England more readily understandable than that of the present leaders of the British government.

Capt. Eden ceased to be British foreign secretary because he did not subscribe to the policy of appeasing the totalitarian states. He had incurred the enmity of the dictators, notably Benito Mussolini, to the extent that his presence in the British government was embarrassing.

Aware of the charge Britain has become decadent and no longer is willing to defend its belief in the dignity of man as opposed to the totalitarian creed of the dignity of the state, Capt. Eden makes a firm denial. "Faced with such a challenge," he replies, "we are acutely conscious of the need to defend ourselves, both materially and spiritually, from the gathering storms, to make sure where we stand, and what it is we stand for, and having made sure, to stand firm."

The ideals of liberty and freedom need champions able to make themselves heard and understood. Because Capt. Eden has emerged as such a champion he is assured of sympathetic audiences in the United States, not because he is an Englishman, though that is important, but because he is a persuasive spokesman for the democratic ideal.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, December 13.

Stirring events mark this day, according to the planetary configurations. There is prospect of an extremely important, urgent and possibly revolutionary movement affecting the future destiny and calling for much forethought and wisdom in making decisions. This seems to relate to romance or adventure, presaging activity in the emotional life as well as reorganization of the business objectives. While all should thrive and bring happiness, there also may be jealousies and public annoyances.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of major occurrences, with probably decisive moves and drastic action. These relate to the private life as well as business, and may have a far-reaching effect on the future contentment and objectives. While romantic or emotional angles are stressed, business reactions may be drastic. Be wary of arousing jealousies or disagreeable reprisals of a public nature.

A child born on this day may be exceptionally talented, adventurous, original and audacious, and may attain some public recognition. However, its romantic nature may arouse jealousy and enmity.

FAVORABLE YARDSTICK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—An often-used yardstick provided a hint today that the Tennessee Valley Authority would win a clean bill of health from a majority of the congressional committee investigating its operation.

The yardstick was the questions asked by the 10 committeemen of the witnesses who have praised or decried the TVA system in public hearings.

The bulky records of testimony show that seven members of the committee have been friendly to TVA with their questions or comments, while three others have been sharply critical.

Senator Frazier (R., N. D.) asserted that nearly six months of investigations, in his opinion, had failed "to produce anything startling."

"I've always been friendly to TVA," he said. "Of course, they have made some mistakes and probably spent more money than they should in some cases, but all in all they have done a mighty fine job down there."

This view contrasted with comments and questions of the other three Republican members, Senator Davis (R., Pa.) and Representatives Wolverton (R., N. J.) and Jenkins (R., Ohio).

Wolverton and Jenkins, usually seated side by side at hearings, have peppered witnesses with questions about "hidden subsidies" in TVA rates, use of general tax funds for one area, and costs facing private utilities that TVA escapes.

In similar fashion, five Democratic committeemen have directed attention to favorable TVA arguments. They are Senators Schwartz (D., Wyo.) and Brown (D., N. H.), Senator-elect Mead (D., N. Y.), who is serving as a house member, and Representatives Barden (D., N. C.) and Thompson (D., Texas).

Senator Donahue (D., Ohio), committee chairman, has asked fewer questions than his colleagues, although he frequently ends controversies between members.

Unusual Study Opportunity Is Offered By Five Sisters

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I am in receipt of a book called "The Five Sisters," by Dr. William E. Blatz, who is professor of child psychology at the University of Toronto. The five sisters are none other than the Dionne quintuplets, and Dr. Blatz has described in detail the method of training which has been used with them.

He points out that this is a unique opportunity in the chance to condition human development. Many points are very interesting. For instance, we have a notation that isolation is the sole consequence of unacceptable behavior, and a picture of little Marie alone in a room being punished for some naughtiness. Fear has never been used as a method of discipline and none of the sisters is supposed to know what fear is.

Taught to Reciprocate

They are taught to reciprocate in social relations, and Marie rolls the ball to Emilie, and Emilie rolls the ball to Marie. They share each other's toys, and according to the doctor, there is a minimum amount of the usual friction that goes with this. They are often deliberately placed in positions where they will have to work out what each of the five will do in such a thing as dancing a minuet or playing a game.

The conclusion is reached that these quintuplets are of the kind of twinning known as identical. Identical twins have many peculiar anatomical points. If we compare the four hands of a set of twins we find that the left hand of the one twin is more like the left hand of the other twin than it is like his own right hand. Marie and Cecile have left hands that agree; Yvonne and Annette have left hands that agree, and Emilie is similar to both sets.

Start Off the Same

Here we have, then, five human beings starting with exactly the same sort of biologic background. The question of whether heredity or environment is the more important will some day be definitely settled in this case. In all aspects of their life, careful records are being kept as to how they respond, to what degree they are obedient, how they respond to play, how much initiative they have and so forth and so forth. Experienced practitioners are here using the best methods of the very most modern ideas of psychology in child training. I wonder how they will turn out.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. O. V. de G.: "Kindly quote me the carbohydrate contained in the following: grapefruit, lemon, lime. Also advise can grapefruit be eaten by a diabetic?"

Answer: Grapefruit is five per cent carbohydrate, lemon is 10 per cent. Curiously enough, I cannot find in any authority that times have ever been analyzed. Grapefruit is a good food for a diabetic, always assuming that he calculates the carbohydrate intake in his daily allowance.

CHAPTER XX

And there was Daddy and Aunt Bet with ideas about the wedding breakfast. Aunt Bet said she didn't see any sense in offending people and there were certain people who just had to be asked. So she had her way about the list. And Daddy insisted upon just one thing, plenty of champagne, and the best.

"And if you're married in church you can't have it perfectly bare," Aunt Bet said.

So there were flowers. "Just a few chrysanthemums—good old-fashioned, cheap chrysanthemums," Natalie said. "But lots of them." They had lots of chrysanthemums.

And, of course, the bride's table, at home, had to be gold and white. Yellow and white orchids would be best, and a few butterfly orchids and gardenias would do, but Natalie supposed pansies and gardenias would have to do.

They compromised on the butterfly orchids. They only needed a few.

Aunt Bet quarreled with the caterers over the cakes and the food. "If you're going to do it," she said, "there's just one way to do it, and that's right."

Natalie hated to think of the family spending so much for her sake, but there didn't seem any way out once it was started. Lane entered right into the spirit of it. They were their big splurge, so they might as well have things right before they started starving to death. By the time you equipped the old car with new tires and had it overhauled you might as well buy a new one. The trailer was new. Heck, have a new car, too.

And Aunt Bet and Daddy had to get some things. It's a serious thing, a big day, when your first girl marries. Alex Wickham told Margaret defensively, for he felt more than a little conscience-stricken about having a new morning coat made, but there would be people whom they hadn't seen in years, and it didn't do to look dabby.

It was a perfect wedding, a perfect day. Margaret was proud of all of them—Daddy, in his morning coat and dark, striped trousers, handsome and courtly and distinguished; Aunt Bet, moving like a queen amongst her guests, and Natalie who had made no mistake in the French blue suit with the white hat, and Lane's orchids, the smartest and gayest, if not the most beautiful bride.

Joe who had come in one of her borrowed dresses, rather clumsily made over, was so upset by the picture Natalie made and the simplicity of the wedding that he actually regretted the white and lilies of his own.

"That," she told her mother, "is what I wanted. A simple suit. But you dressed me up in the 10 yards of lace curtain and made me look like a monkey, just because YOU wanted white."

"Oh, darling," poor, fat little Mrs. Decker, whose feet hurt, said, "You WANTED white."

"Oh, I did not," Sue hissed. "And anyway, next time I'm going to wear a suit."

"Next time!"

"You heard me!"

Seeing the mood Sue was in—for Sue was always miserable if she wasn't the center of all eyes and all interest—Margaret shooed all the eligible young men she could find to dance attendance on her, to keep her from getting really mean, and trying to steal the show from Natalie.

It helped, but it was not altogether a success. Sue's laughter, louder and louder above the voices of the others. Her voice shrilled above the babble of talk and laughter.

"And when I leave here I'll have to feed the infants and then to the wash tub... I will. Certainly I will! What did you think, that you can have a laundry and have twins. No really—we do live on $100. Honestly, it's all Ken makes. Isn't that crazy? I'm going to have some more chicken. We never have it at home, so I eat like a farmhand whenever we go out anywhere."

"We can't afford anything decent, and I just can't eat things like hamburger and beans, so I just lose weight. Look! Aren't I the living skeleton? Isn't it ridiculous?"

Margaret saw Ken's face.

She tried to get away from one of her father's old friends, who was saying, "But why aren't you getting married? Why are you letting your little sister get ahead of you?"

Four of Babs sorority sisters, struggling through the crowd towards the bride and the bride's bouquet, got between her and Ken. Helpless, she saw him, white-faced, stony-eyed, bearing down on Sue.

It all happened so quickly that Margaret couldn't be sure afterward of what was really, and what she imagined. There was no doubt about Ken's intention. He was going to silence Sue—if he had to knock her down, and drag her out, to do it.

She saw Sue's flashing, laughing face, heard her high, shrill laughter, saw the faces of the listeners, their first sympathetic amusement, fading to embarrassment and shocked surprise. Sue was carrying it too far. It was no longer funny, she was behaving scandalously at Natalie's wedding!

Margaret saw what nobody else seemed to see—Kenneth bearing down on Sue, ready to say or do something that would fan the flame into a conflagration.

"Please—" she said—"please—"

But nobody moved. She couldn't push her way to them. And while she stood, frozen with fear of what seemed certain to happen, she saw Joe forcing his way toward Kenneth.

He had Kenneth by the arm, he was saying something about drinking to the bride. He might have been air, for all the attention Ken paid to him. Just one more person to be pushed aside. But Joe wasn't an easy person to push aside. He

Well, a hero anyhow.

That all-American comedian of the airwaves, Lew Lehr, who massacres the English in the newsreel, has recently shot meteor-like across the football heavens as a star of inconsequential magnitude. (He would, just when the season's over.) Lehr may get in the Rose

College President To Be Outside Man

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—Trustees of Ohio State university announced today adoption of a resolution favoring selection of a president from outside the present staff.

The board's action apparently eliminated from consideration Vice President J. L. Morrill and other faculty members regarded previously as prominent candidates for the presidency vacated in July by Dr. George Rightmire.

"It is the present sense of the majority of the board that we look outside of the university in selecting a president," the resolution said.

Dedicated to the thousands of slum boys who next week or next year must choose between crime and honesty, "Angels With Dirty Faces", a powerful human document dramatically enacted by James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, the "Dead End" kids, Humphrey Bogart, Ann Sheridan and George Bancroft, shows tonight and Tuesday at the State.

It tells the story of two boys—ordinary dirty-faced kids, brought up in the seething slums of a great city—who took opposite roads. One to the shadowy realms of the underworld, the other to priesthood's

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—Fire Warden Frederick E. Barrett said today that the fire which destroyed the Luna park skating rink and injured nine firemen yesterday was of incendiary origin.

The film starts out with the two boys committing a petty crime, then running for freedom, with police in hot pursuit. A split second—a single stride—and one of them was made into a killer. He returns to the slums to get his vengeance on the world—a big-shot killer leading hundreds of kids into a life like his.

The boy who ran a little faster made a vow to save a million other dirty-faced kids from the fate that was almost his. Ordained as a priest, he returns to the slums to battle against the forces of crime for the lives of the dirty-faced angels who never had a chance to go straight.

"Angels With Dirty Faces" is the story of two of those kids—and the men they grew up to be. Powerfully produced with stark realism, it is destined to be a great and memorable experience for all who see it.

Strong Roles

James Cagney and Pat O'Brien have the strongest roles of their careers and each makes the most of the character he brings to life on the screen. Cagney, the hard guy, reckless, daring, invulnerable until he clashes with O'Brien, the priest, who both loved and hated him, is Cagney at his best. O'Brien, as the fighting priest, serenely sacrificing his personal happiness and safety that his slum boys may grow up into good and useful citizens, shows his extreme versatility as an actor.

A considerable amount has been set aside, or taken out, on the store's most convenient budget payment plan. Selections are every now with the vast amount of merchandise on hand for the early Christmas shopper.

Pay Only Cash Price

Many customers have been using the Art budget payment plan for years. Their choice of a gift is assured and they are certain of not having to pay more than the cash price. Though easy payments are arranged for the buyer's convenience, he does not have to be bothered with a carrying charge.

More attractive gifts are available this year at more than usually moderate prices. Gift packages, sets and wrappings have received more attention this season than ever before.

Art's are showing many unusual buys in watches. Through many years of serving the Salem area, Art's know that nationally known quality watches, diamonds, jewelry, silverware, glassware and gift articles are considered first always. They are aware that service and honesty in business must be maintained.

Art's, of course, sells virtually all of the famous watches, including Hamilton, Elgin, Bulova, Benrus, Waltham, Gruen, Brewster, etc. In silverware is featured the Rogers lines, Community plate and other well known types. There are sets, chests and individual pieces from which to choose. Many new attractive pieces are offered in glassware of the leading makers.

Art's also is distinctive for its gifts for men, as well as for women. Besides the large display of watches and pocket watches, there are special pen and pencil, desk and gift sets.

There are also cuff link sets, formal and informal, tie and collar pins, belt buckles, rings and numerous other articles that any man likes.

Many specialties are being shown in the way of lighters, both for men and for women. A new series of compact, purses, handbags and other accessories is being displayed and meeting with much favorable comment. The latest in jewelry, gift combinations and rings is now available. Among these are mentioned the new pearl Rosary and prayer book, bracelets, pendants and rings.

It is a recognized fact, of course, that Art's are diamond specialists, dealing only in blue white, perfect diamonds. You receive a diamond bond with every diamond purchased at Art's.

Considerable activity is reported from every department at Art's. In the electrical department, particularly, much attention is being given to radios and in this connection the buying public has discovered that this store carries a complete line of midsize radios, compact, yet beautiful and with all of the characteristics of the larger sets. ## Motorists Hail Pennzip and Pennzoi As "Perfect Partners"

FORD BOOSTING HIS PRODUCTION

Increasing Output of Tires, Glass and Other Accessories

DETROIT, Dec. 12.—Increasing his own output of tires, glass, steel and a variety of other materials that go into the production of automobiles, Henry Ford is preparing for a sharp increase in the production of cars and trucks during the 1939 model season.

The tire manufacturing plant is one of the major units in the $34,000,000 expansion begun by the Ford Motor company a little more than two years ago. The glass making equipment has been expanded and additional expenditures are contemplated on the company's main power plant at the River Rouge.

Expansion of the facilities for producing these important items in the automobile manufacturing process prompted questions as to whether Ford was seeking to make himself entirely independent of outside suppliers. This Ford denied. "We buy from thousands of suppliers," he said, "and we expect to continue to do so. We are trying only to learn whether there are better manufacturing processes than those now in practice."

May Be More Expansion

The tire plant, which covers four and one-half acres in the 1,100-acre Ford property on the River Rouge, cost $5,600,000. There may be some further expansion as additional raw material becomes available from Ford's Brazilian rubber plantation. The present equipment produces 5,000 tires daily.

Generally, this is termed "half of the Ford tire needs."

DE SOTO MAKING NEW LIMOUSINES

Two 1939 Models Will Fill Special Orders From Retail Trade

Two new 1939 model DeSotos—the DeLuxe seven-passenger limousine and the Custom seven-passenger limousine—have just been put into production. It was announced this week by the Harris garage, local DeSoto dealers.

Featuring 136-inch wheelbases and 100 horsepower engines, the new seven-passenger limousine models are being built to fill special orders from retail customers. It has not been necessary to sacrifice comfort in the front seat to gain extra length in the rear compartment in these seven-passenger limousines. The driver's seat provides as much room and comfort behind the steering wheel and pedals as any of the DeSoto Sedan models. At the same time, rear compartment measurements will attest to the unusual length and width of this section of the car.

Variety of Upholstery
In the DeLuxe line four different combinations of upholstery are available upon order. First, black leather in front and taupe Bedford cord in the rear; second, black leather in front and pile fabric in the rear; third, taupe Bedford cord both front and rear; and fourth, pile fabric both front and rear.

There are also four different combinations of upholstery available in the custom line: Black leather in front and either blue or tan broadcloth in rear; tan broadcloth both front and rear; and blue broadcloth both front and rear.

The glass partition in the seven-passenger limousine, separating the driver's compartment from the rear, lowers by means of a handle in the back of the front seat.

Auxiliary Seats Wide
The two auxiliary seats in the rear compartment, that fold into the back of the front seat when not in use, are not of the skeleton type, but are well padded and upholstered and more than 23 inches wide, each.

Interior lighting in the limousine models includes a front compartment dome light at the top of the seat partition, behind the driver's head with a switch located on the right partition pillar; and a rear dome light controlled by automatic door switches in both rear doors as well as a manual switch on the rear door post.

"Specials" Available
A more luxurious trim of heavy neutral shade of broadcloth, made up in pillow style, is also available on special order.

Likewise such special features as solid rear quarter panels, special cushion springs, rear seat center folding arm rest, dual cigar lighters mounted in the rear compartment above rear seat arm rests, and others are also available at extra cost and on special order.

MOUNT PUPILS STUDY MAKE-UP

Principles of Theater Art Are Taught In New Course

ALLIANCE, Dec. 12.—Mount Union college will offer a new course entitled "Theatrical Make-Up" starting Jan. 30, the beginning of the second semester of the school year. Dr. M. W. Hyde, dean of the college, announces.

The course, which will be taught by John W. Gummel, director of drama is a part of the program started at Mount Union this year to make available more studies in the field of dramatics.

The class, which was originally planned to meet during the daytime, has been changed to an evening hour, by requests of teachers and directors of local amateur groups in Alliance and surrounding communities. The object of this new course is to demonstrate the principles of the art of make-up, as used by professional artists of stage and screen.

Practice On Each Other
Gummel plans to have each member of the class do actual make-up work, using other members of the class as subjects. These make-ups will include "straight", middle and old age and racial types. Considerable practice will be devoted to the application of crepe hair, modeling with plastic substances, and the use of such materials as collodion in the creation of the more difficult character make-ups.

Under present plans, the class will meet Thursday evening each week at 6:30.

Gummel took his master of fine arts degree at the ale university

SALEM SAXON LADS WIN OVERTIME CAGE GAME

12-POINT SPREE ENABLES SALEM TO TOP MONACA

Local Saxon Lads Win In Overtime; Salem Girls Also Triumph

Scoring 12 points in an overtime period, the Salem Saxon boys basketball team defeated Monaca, Pa., 40 to 29, in an Ohio and Western Pennsylvania Saxon Basketball league game at Monaca Saturday night.

The game was extended into an overtime period when the score was deadlocked at 28-all at the close of the regulation playing time. The Salem lads staged a scoring spree in the extra frame, tallying 12 points while holding Monaca to one.

Except for the extra frame, the game was nip and tuck throughout. The Salem lads held a four point lead, 8 to 4, at the end of the first quarter, but the score was tied at 14-all at halftime.

Salem again moved to the front in the third quarter, holding a two-point edge, 22 to 20, when this period ended. Monaca rallied in the last frame to tie the score and force the game into overtime.

Wally Linder and Rudy Schuster were the big guns for the Salem club, Linder scoring 11 points and Schuster 13. M. Fuller and Klose were outstanding for Monaca.

The victory was the Salem team's second in three league games to date. They will meet Cleveland East, defending champion of the western division of the league, in their fourth game of the season at the Memorial building this coming Saturday night.

The Salem Saxon girls also came out on top in their game, posting their first victory of the season as they defeated Monaca lasses, 19 to 14. It was the Salem girls' second game of the 1938-39 campaign.

After trailing by two points in the first quarter, the Salem girls rallied to tie the score at 9-all at halftime, then went on to win in the third and fourth periods. At the end of the third quarter, the Salem lasses led, 15 to 11.

Jo Adams connected for four field goals and one free throw to lead Salem in scoring with nine points. Schuller paced the Monaca girls in scoring with 13 points.

Tough Schedule

CLEVELAND — Joe Scott, national decathlon track champion, will stretch his six-foot, two-inch frame at center on Western Reserve's basketball team this winter. Reserve has Dartmouth, Indiana, Duquesne, Penn State, Michigan State, Notre Dame, George Washington and Temple on a truly tough basketball schedule.

Waive Rights

CHICAGO — President William Harridge of the American league said today that all junior circuit clubs had waived on Zeke Bonura, hard-hitting first baseman owned by the Washington Senators, clearing the way for a talk-of deal which may send the husky infielder to the New York Giants.

Coincidence

CINCINNATI — Joe Aston, Cincinnati sports writer, notes a coincidence between the late-season power of Tennessee's football team and the mid-season transfer of Johnny Maurer from the Miami U. coaching staff to become line coach and head basketball coach at the Knoxville school.

Park A. C. Wins

Lee Shaffer scored 13 points to pace the Park A. C. basketball team to a 33 to 29 victory over the Beatrice Billiards of East Palestine at the Memorial building Saturday night.

Coach Sees Dissolution Of Loop Aid to Marshall

Breaking Up of Buckeye Conference Will Help Schedule of College, Henderson Believes

COLUMBUS, Dec. 12.—Dissolution of the five-member Buckeye Athletic Conference left a few expressed regrets and considerable speculation over possible new loop affiliations in the debris today.

Coach Cam Henderson of Marshall college, storm-center of the 13-year-old loop, expressed the belief that the West Virginia school's athletic schedules would become stronger than ever as a result of the action, adding:

Marshall is not adverse to joining a new conference provided the league is strong all along the line.

Talk of organizing a Great Lakes conference was renewed but nothing concrete came out of the immediate flurry on speculation. Last year, Toledo, Akron and other northern Ohio schools had been mentioned as possible members of such a league.

The Buckeye, rated the "toughest little conference in the country," fell apart unexpectedly late Saturday as the result of resignations by its three remaining charter members.

Miami university started things by withdrawing because "league affiliations hampered schedule-making with outside teams." Ohio Wesleyan viewed the league as unattractive without the Oxford school and followed suit.

Ohio university's faculty representative, Prof. Don Clippinger, moved that the loop disband; Harry Bauman of Dayton university voiced a second, and Henderson chimed in to make the action unanimous.

The skids had been greased at a secret meeting of the three charter members in Springfield, Tenn., day. Coaches who declined to be quoted said it had been decided there to expel Marshall from the conference. The Miami athletic committee later decided to withdraw rather than press the action against Marshall, it was said.

Conference members decided to complete 1938-39 basketball and spring sports schedules and to play 1939 football games, but several grid cancellations were in prospect because contracts have not yet been signed. Xavier and Western State of Kalamazoo, Mich., joined the conference last June on probation, which would have expired in June, 1939.

Judson Hyames, Western State athletic director, and Clem Crowe of Xavier expressed regret over dissolution of the league but said they hoped to schedule sports events with the member schools.

MOTORS TROUNCE MCDONALD QUINT

Catlos and Scullion Set Pace As Althouse Team Wins

With Al Catlos and Gordy Scullion leading the point-making, the Althouse Motors cagers walloped the McDonald A. C., 49 to 17, at the Memorial building Saturday night.

The Althouse quintet picked up a five-point lead in the first quarter and increased its advantage to 11 points in the second period to lead, 14 to 3, at halftime. At the end of the third quarter, the Motors were far out in front, 31 to 11.

Catlos swished seven field goals and added three free throws to carry off individual honors with 17 points. Scullion hooped seven field goals for 14 points.

Rescind Projects To Make New Ones

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—PWA officials said today they were rescinding at "break-neck" speed allotments to projects which could not qualify with requirements, so that funds might be given to new applications.

Since Nov. 21, officials said, PWA has rescinded about $15,000,000 in grants. With this money it has authorized $10,760,000 of grants for 56 projects which otherwise could not have been financed.

Most of the new projects, they said, have been of the small school and paying job type, many of which can get under way within as little as nine days' time.

NOTICE—On and after this date, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by anyone other than myself.
